34. Also remember major infractions like wrong runs will result in action or even dismissal.

35. If you try to argue with us about it your fines will double for the offense that you are arguing. Cop it on the chin like an adult and admit that you are in the wrong. We don't appreciate whinging so just take it we've got enough to worry about and look after, with out you doing that.

remember we had these last year and this is an idea that I would like to bring back everyone is down with it. It makes minor infractions a bit more fun and a lot less stress. Also it makes Sundays after our safety meetings a lot of fun revealing any issues from the week prior and we can all have a good laugh. Remember if you not want to be part of this you will go through the normal disciplinary actions it will also not partake in the drinking of the drinks. Again I feel like this ought the lift department closer together last year, as who doesn't enjoy a couple gold ones with work mates after work.
